JULY 2011 NEWSLETTER

Dear Beryl,

The GFAA Board has been hard at work this spring and summer and as a result we have some great news for you!

GFAA, in partnership with the Arts Association of Alachua County and other supporting groups such as YOPP, Inc., Society Promotions, The After School Art Club and the Cultural Arts Coalition has joined together in a common project to unite artists and arts organizations and enable them to become successful by providing affordable access to space, equipment and expertise. The liason for the coordination of this group effort is our own GFAA President, Chuck Sapp. The Center's official name as specified by the estate of its visionary founder, Doris Bardon, is the Doris Bardon Community Cultural Center but will commonly be referred to as The DORIS.

The mission of the center will be to create a unifying force for the arts by providing a place where artist and arts organizations meet to network, learn and present, where inspiration, collaboration and education will help develop future artists as well as future audiences. As an invaluable resource for the community, The DORIS will be open to all for performances, exhibitions, meetings and educational programs.

The physical location of the Doris Bardon Community Cultural Center is 716 N Main Street, Gainesville FL 32601 and is a 5,000sq. ft. space. Projects are now underway and committees formed to finalize the Business Plan, Policy and Procedures, Membership Levels, Volunteer Programs, Staffing/Resident Artist Requirements, Programs, and PR and marketing projects

The FIRST OFFICIAL EVENT of "The DORIS" will be THE PARTY STARTS HERE in conjunction with the JULY 29th Gainesville ARTWALK. You can kickoff ARTWALK at 6:30PM at "The DORIS" with an ART BY INVITATION exhibition.. Heavy Hors d'oeuvre and cocktails will be available for a $15 contribution, with a portion of the proceeds being donated to "The DORIS". A shuttle service between "The DORIS" and the Hippodrome State Theatre will be provided for your convenience.

Please pay close attention to your GFAA Newsletters for more breaking information concerning "The DORIS".
